BAD FOR HUNTERS

Captain Barratt and party returned yesterday from Bear river, where they have been shooting ducks for the past couple of days. Mr. Barratt reports shooting good and said each member of the party had little frouble in getting the limit. Sunday, however, nearly all the open water froze, which drove the ducks out into the Great Salt lake. He does not think, for this reason, shooting will be much good until the waterways are open again.

Forecast of the Verdict of the Coroner's Jury on Wreck at Azusa, Wyo.

Private advices received late last night from Rock Springs state that the coro-ner's jury which investigated the wreck at Azusa siding, six miles east of Gran-ger, in which twelve people lost their lives and a score or more were injured, ad-journed at 10 o'clock tonight to meet again at 9:30 tomorrow, when a verdict will be rendered.

Journed at 10 octock tonight to meet again at 9:30 tomorrow, when a verdict will be rendered.

This verdict, which is anxiously awaited by thousands of persons who have read the details of the awful accident, will, it is said, be to the effect "that the collision was due to the carelessness of Night Operator Frank Miller of Granger, who, in tracing new copies of the help order on No. 3, which he gave to the freight crew, stated that the mail train would run one hour and fifty minutes late from Green River to Granger, instead of one hour and thirty minutes late, as provided in the original copy."

Miller was not present to testify in his own behalf before the coroner's jury, he having fled from the country shortly after the terrible wreck occurred. Little is known of him, as he was a new man at Granger. He was a fair operator, but the pride which tempted him to rewrite a train order that he might give out prettier copy cost the lives of twelve persons and one of the most frightful railroad accidents that ever occurred on the Harriman system.

RESULT NOT CHANGED

BY BRILLIANTS Canvass of Vote Shows Howell's Election as Judge to Be Certain.

The canvass of votes in this county has been regarded as merely a perfunctory operation which could not change the results as already published excepting possibly on district judge. In Davis and Morgan counties the vote on this office was completely canvassed. In Davis county Howell received a phreatity of only 59, in place of 83 as negetofore credited. In Morgan county he received 99, and in Weber county there were no changes in the sixteen districts which were canvassed.

Provided the other thirty-three districts show no changes, Howell will have a majority of 8 in this county, and will be elected, on the face of the returns, by a plurality of 166.

Survive. The condition of Edsen P. Halstead, the boy who was accidentally shot this afternoon, was very critical at 1 o'clock this morning, and his family and friends, as well as the attending physicians, have abandoned all hope and are simply awaiting the end. An operation was attempted yesterday morning, the doctors thinking that possibly the unconscious condition of the lad was due to pressure on the brain. It was thought that there was one chance in a thousand that this might be relieved and the boy's life saved.

After the operation was commenced, however, it was discovered that the bullet had passed through the brain, and the attempt was abandoned.

The claim presented was for services rendered Warren Robinson, brother of the claimant, who was afflicted with diphtheria and was placed in quarantine by the county health officer. The board not only refused to pay the bill but also notified the clerk to inform the claimant that such service as had been rendered was due from one brother to another.

What More Can Salt Lake City People Ask For?

The board of county commissioners met yesterday morning and after transacting the usual routine business resolved themselves into a board of canvussers to canvassers to the results as heretofore published. The board got through with sixteen of the twenty-five districts in Ogden City. The main feature that stands out in the figures is the high vote cast. Some of the districts got out their full voting strength within half a dozen votes. In the Seventh Ogden district, however, out of a registration of 447 there were but 255 votes cast. This was the district where T. D. Johnson, Democratic chairman, filed a challenge list against Uz names, most of them registered as from the central hotel. Of those challenged, only twenty swore in their votes, and some who presented themselves refused to do so. The board will continue to canvass the vote until the returns are completely gone over. They will then certify to the results as shown by the tally sheets.
